Dear Julie Clark,

I am attracted to working for Logix Communications because I am confident that my skills and personal attributes would be of benefit to your company.

As you can see from the attached resume, I'm a dynamic and resourceful sales executive. I have 5 years of experience in sales, recruiting, finance, customer service and human resources management.

I have had a proven career track of making a positive organizational change, developing strong manpower, identifying talent and managing all phases of full-cycle recruiting to achieve corporate goals. I carried out a wide variety of tasks concerning financial procedures and accounting skills. Dedicated to ensuring customer and employee satisfaction maximizing profits and creating an atmosphere of exceptional employee morale. I has demonstrated proven ability to connect with others, find the right people for the right spot on the bus, and understand the overall impact to the bottom line. One of my passions is finding the right solution and providing first-class customer service while building lasting relationships.

My experience has taught me the following:

- My clients' success is my number one measurement for my own success.
- I thrive off of connecting decision-makers and facilitating meaningful partnerships.
- I'm the calm guy when things blow up
- I think big and am a creative problem-solver.
- I don't care who gets credit as long as we win.
- I believe that the best sales leaders are highly educated in their field and listen more than they talk.

I am very keen to join your team and am available for interview at your convenience. I look forward to hearing from you.

Best Regards,
Megan Hammer
