

JACOB DOU

PRESCHOOL TEACHER

Dear Mr. Jackson,

After seeing the opening for Preschool Teacher at Resumesbot, I was happy to apply. I feel as if I would be a significant advantage for the program and couldn't imagine anything better than to come ready. Training small kids has consistently been my obsession, and ResumesBot feels like an ideal choice for me.

Despite the fact that I am new to the showing calling, I have consumed my time on earth getting ready for such a vocation. The craving to help kids comes from the employments I had growing up including sitter, camp guide, and caretaker. I delighted in everything about the way toward watching, instructing, and helping kids. Their marvel filled eyes and brains are intended to be formed and helped. There is nothing more remunerating than doing only that.

Notwithstanding my work understanding, my instruction makes me a brilliant contender for the activity. I earned my B.A. in early youth training at Hawaii Western, and I minored in youth advancement. While there, I served at my nearby church as a Sunday School instructor for fourth and fifth graders.

I have experience filling in as a colleague in the study hall. It was only the beginning I required for this next hop. At the school, I was in charge of planning fun and drawing in ventures for the children. This included making a round of learning letters and numbers. We gave backstories and characters to every image.

Thank you for your time and consideration!

Sincerely,
Jacob Dou
