QA Tester

Dear Mrs. Thompson,

I am keen on one of November Retail's Quality Assurance Tester positions. Your promotion on ResumesBot.com says there are three openings accessible and I want to present my resume for your consideration. I am especially intrigued by the low maintenance space where I would work out of the home.

I have four years of history filling in as a quality confirmation analyzer out of my home for MicroProductions. I have been carefully prepared in the best procedures for looking at surveying and giving an account of the utilization of everything from plastic nourishment compartments to attempting solidified sustenances. As a quality confirmation analyzer, I principally worked autonomously. Be that as it may, I likewise connected with my whole family in testing. This implied association composing and keeping up reports and astute time the board for juggling various tasks and fulfilling time constraints. I was as often as possible a piece of the organization's gathering trying just as finishing on the web and snail mail overviews.

I have shopped at November Retail's for a long time and couldn't imagine anything better than to add to your prosperity as a Quality Assurance Tester. All my contact data is on my resume.

Yours sincerely,

Anna Dou
