

NICOLAS NILSON

SCHOOL COUNSELOR

Dear Mr. Jackson,

To change the life of only one kid is my desire, and in the event that I can do that, I will feel I have accomplished something. I have gone through the previous four years at Boston University figuring out how to be the best Counselor I can be, and I am sure that I would exceed expectations in the School Counselor position at Carl and Henry Academy.

At Northwest, I developed my adoration for human connections by sanctioning a friend directing gathering for our grounds. Having the option to help my kindred understudies overcome their everyday hardships was an inspiring background, and through that experience, I had the option to find out around a few diverse mental issue and furthermore about various societies. Presently, I trust I have a more grounded comprehension of what it resembles to give of myself and to help individuals everything being equal.

A large portion of all, this association has invigorated my sympathy and washed down my occasionally fatigued point of view. It is simple nowadays to move toward becoming hindered by all the awful things occurring the world over, however this position has helped me to remember exactly how much good there is. I accept that with the correct sort of inspiration and backing, anybody can make their fantasies work out as expected. I genuinely accept that my experience and my coursework have set me up to be the best School Counselor that I can be, and I would love for it to be at Carl and Henry Academy.

Thank you for your time and consideration!

Sincerely,
Nicolas Nilson
