Dear Mr. Jung,

After I found out about the new job position of Truck Driver in your company, I actually was happy to send my resume to your overview. With my solid expertise safely transporting and offering cargo from warehouses to be able to retail stores and companies, combined with my exceptional communication skills and general reliability, I feel assured that I would highly benefit your team.

With my earlier experience in cargo and equipment delivery, coupled using my superb record associated with safety and dependability, I believe I could rapidly surpass your expectations in this role. Please give me a chance to discuss with you this job position in more detail.

Thank you for your time,

Best Regards,

Dorian Douglas
